

The leadership of the North Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church is keeping all of our churches informed regarding information and recommendations from the Center for Disease Control and from the United Methodist agencies working with the swine flu outbreak. We are also maintaining a close watch on the situation. Bishop W. Earl Bledsoe has expressed his deep concern for everyone affected.